DEATH TAKES

A JUNE BRIDE.

Miss Holtzclaw Dies in a Louisville Infirmary After a Short Illness.

A VICTIM OF TYPHOID.

A sad death occurred in Louisville, Saturday, when Miss Florence Holtzclaw became a victim of typhoid pneumonia. It was only a few weeks ago that she was in this city visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Ridge, and after her return to Louisville she was taken ill. Miss Holtzclaw was moved from her home to an infirmary, where every attention was given to restore her to health, and her death came as a great shock and loss to her family and friends. Miss Holtzclaw was a beautiful young woman, just in her twenty-third year. She was a blonde and greatly admired here for beauty and gracious disposition. Her death is a particularly sad one as she was engaged to be married and her wedding had been arranged to take place in June.

Mr. and Mrs. Ridge went to Louisville Sunday to attend the funeral.

Truly another good woman has fallen a victim to death, the world and sin, by faith which is Christ our Lord.

Sister Cashman leaves a husband, six children, two sisters and a brother to mourn her departure. Sister Cashman represents a very large train of relatives on this and on the other side of the Jordan of Death. May they all so have lived that they all may have a safe and happy union in the world above.

Wright's Home Made Baking Powder of which she is the originator of the formula, has been sifted in thousands of sacks of flour in Louisville. Mrs. Wright expects to introduce the baking powder in Florida at an early date.

CHAPTER EIGHT

BY January the complex social mechanism of the metropolis was whirling smoothly again. The last winter fashionable. The center figure had returned from the country. Those of the same caste who were bound for a southern or exotic winter had departed, and the glittering machine, every part assembled, refitted, polished and polished, had begun to revolve. The center figure had returned from the country. Those of the same caste who were bound for a southern or exotic winter had departed, and the glittering machine, every part assembled, refitted, polished and polished, had begun to revolve.

It was an open winter in New York and financially a prosperous one, and that meant a brilliant social season. Three phenomena particularly characterized that metropolitan winter—the reckless rage for private gauding through the medium of bridge and roulette; the incorporation of a company known as the Intercounty Electric company, capitalized at a figure calculated to disturb nobody, and so far without any avowed specific policy other than that which served to decorate a portion of its charter which others might have remained curious and comparatively blank; the third phenomenon was the retirement from active affairs of Stanley S. Quarrier, the father of the Intercounty Electric, the election of the son to the presidency of the great Algonquin Loan and Trust company, with its network system of dependent, subsidiary and allied corporations.

The day that the newspapers gave this interesting information to the western world, Leroy Mortimer, on being blithely notified that he had overheard his name with the Algonquin Loan and Trust, began telephoning in every direction until he located Beverly Plank in the Saddle club, an organization of wealthy men and sportsmen. Beverly Plank had grown stouter since he had returned to town from Lake Park, but the increase of weight was evenly distributed over his sixteen odd, which made him only a little more portly and not at all fat. Beverly Plank had become more portly, but the increase of weight was evenly distributed over his sixteen odd, which made him only a little more portly and not at all fat.

The social campaign inaugurated by Leroy Mortimer in behalf of Beverly Plank had so far received no serious success. His visit at the horse show, of course, produced merely negative results. His visit at the open night which something about the day. He was up at the Lakes and the Bahamas. He had enjoyed a ward in the new addition at St. Bernard's hospital. He had presented a fine Calico mink. The success of Wylie's to the Met. got to take and you want from me, you would from my friend."

There was a painful, unaccustomed sensation had shivered Mortimer, something almost akin to shame. It astonished him a little. He did not yet understand why in the very moment of success over the stolid, shrewd young man and his thrifty Dutch instincts he should feel uncomfortable. Was it his own worth something? Had he not earned at least the right to borrow from rich men who could afford to pay for what was done for them? Why should he feel ashamed? He had not been treacherous; he really liked the fellow. Why shouldn't he take his money?

"See here, old man," said Plank, extending a large light-colored hand "is all square between us now?"

"I think so," muttered Mortimer. Plank Plank would not relinquish his hand.

"Then tell me how to draw that check," said Mortimer, who was not a cheater, but a man who understood the value of a dollar.

WHY SOME MEN GET TO BE BOSSES.

In a brilliant speech delivered to the Central Railway Club at Buffalo and published in the Railway World, George A. Post told some true and wholesome things about the American industrial bosses.
These men have become bosses because they were not afraid to do more work than other fellows getting the same pay, because they smiled while others grunted, because they lifted while others leaned, because they looked up, not down, and sought instead of shirking responsibility. There was a station agent, said Mr. Post, named Newman, at Shreveport, La., a number of years ago. Shreveport is still there, but Newman isn't. He is now president of the New York Central. There was a brakeman on a railroad in the Northwest named Underwood, but he is president of the Erie now. Mellen of the New Haven was once a cashier's clerk on a little New Hampshire road. Brown of the New York Central used to be a section hand.
Baer of the reading was a printer's devil. Finley of the Southern used to be a stenographer, and McCrea of the Pennsylvania rose from a roddman in the engineer corps. Mr. Post argued that these men became bosses in the right way, by reason of their willingness to work hard and their ambition to attain success. He argued further that they are all getting better and broader men for the success which they have gained, and the world itself is better because they have become bosses. Then he went on to say: "No amount of the Utopian propaganda or socialist sophistry can ever change the eternal fact that the higher intelligence will be dominant over the lesser, energy will win over indolence, thrift will accumulate more than improvidence and courage will conquer where cowardice fails." Wall Street Journal.

Mr. Newman, referred to in this article, is the same boy who was born out here near Cloverport, on what some people would call a poor farm. He got his inspiration right out there. The little farm wasn't big enough and he branched out. There are just as many opportunities for the boys of Breckenridge now as there were then.
There is always room at the top for the boy that is willing and knowing.

We have learned something recently regarding Mr. Taft's history as a public servant that has changed our opinion as to his fitness for the Republican nomination for President. We were inclined to be for Gov. Hughes, who has made a splendid Governor of New York State, but aside from this he is without experience. Mr. Taft is thoroughly equipped from the ground up, having had the experience and is thoroughly in touch and accord with the Roosevelt policies.
Besides Mr. Taft is one of the best lawyers in the country, which is a necessary adjunct to the high position of Chief Magistrate. Mr. Taft is a poor man. While he has held a public office since he was eighteen years of age, he has not accumulated any of this world's goods.
There is no graft in his make-up. He is a thorough American and a statesman, and would make a better President than Mr. Roosevelt. Breckenridge county Republicans should send a solid Taft delegation to the State Convention.

During the last week many have paid several dollars on past due scribers come to us and cheerfully pay the debt they have carelessly neglected. Besides our good collections we have received a number of new subscribers, having received ten Saturday. The fact that people are more interested in their home paper is becoming clearly evident every day. Why shouldn't they be? It is the reflection of their own lives, the thoughts of their own friends and the crown of the world's news. Subscribe for your home paper and work for its interests, because it is not the editor's publication alone, but it is yours also.

We have heard of a good many "Night Rider" notices being posted at different points in this county, but we have not been able to locate one or see the man who got the notices or saw one of them.
There is a whole lot of idle talk along this line that should be suppressed. The least said is the soonest mended. Don't put up any of these notices for a joke. It has ceased to be a joke, but a condition that confronts us. We believe there is not a man--nor any body of men-- in this county who would take advantage of the darkness or a mask to injure his neighbor. Let us all be considerate. It is no time for playing jokes.

"There is more ground broken in this county up to the present time than has been in ten years before," said a well known farmer to the News. He said the farmers were in better shape with their spring work and doing more than he had ever seen them.

The crop of spring lambs was never better.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years catarrh pronounced a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh

ED. F. ALEXANDER, Irvington, Ky.

Dies in Oklahoma.

Raymond, Ky. March 23. (Special)
On Friday evening, February 21, 1908, at 10:30, the spirit of Mrs. C. M. Robbins lost his fight from this world back to him who gave it. Before marriage she was Miss Nettie Cashman, daughter of Lennard Cashman, deceased. She was married to Mack Robbins of this county,
December 29, 1891.

About seven years ago they moved to Brazil, Ind. and about three and one-half years ago went from there to Oklahoma where she lived at the time of her death. On last September she was called here to the bedside of her father, and after his death she left for her home at Okfuskee, Oklahoma. She had not had good health for several years, and had been sick ever since she went home from Kentucky. No one thought her dangerously ill until just a few days before her death, which was caused by a tumor.

She was born November 1, 1871, being 90 years old at the time of her death.
When quite young she professed faith in Christ and joined the Baptist church at this place. She lived a true and consistent member until death. She had taught in the public schools of this county.

On the Sunday following her death,
after a song, "We'll Never Say Goodbye in Heaven," and prayer, she was laid to rest about two miles of where she lived.
She leaves a husband, mother and four brothers to weep for her while she is not dead, but gone on before to a brighter world, to meet a father, two brothers and one sister, who had preceded her there.

The writer greatly sympathizes with the aged mother and her dear companion in their great loss.
Nettie, "I had to give thee up,
But sweet to know you had bright hopes
In a world more bright than this.

Interesting Magazine and Complete Grammar.

"We ain't got no education, and dat aint all, we ain't a wadin' none," is seldom heard now, for the opportunities to learn are so great and given in such an interesting way that one wants an education and cannot resist it. At least that is the way "Correct English," a splendid magazine, appeals to everyone, and the editor has just issued a grammar that offers much help to those who are seeking perfect English.

Renews Subscription.

Norvin Chancellor, of Tar Fork, was in the city Wednesday and renewed his subscription to the News. Mr. Chancellor says the farmers about Tar Fork have each decided to put in 2 1/2 acres of tobacco for next year's crop. The people of the Tar Fork neighborhood are all thrifty and there is no evidence that the panic has been within their gates.

AMERICAN OFFICERS OF HIGH RANK AND OTHERS ENDORSE PE-RU-NA.

Prominent People Recommend the Remedy
Pe-ru-na.

Dr. Hartman's World Renowned Catarrh Medicine.

A Remedy for the Grip.
Gen. W. H. Parsons, 925 H St., N. W., Washington, D. C., writes as follows:
"Upon the recommendation of personal friends and many strong testimonials to the efficacy of Peru-na in the treatment of the numerous symptoms of the grip with which I have been afflicted for four months past, I have been induced to undergo a treatment of this justly celebrated formula.

"I feel a decided change for the better by its use for one week only, especially in toning up the stomach, and a consequent decided effect upon my appetite. I therefore feel much encouraged that I am on the road to complete restoration.

"My numerous friends in Texas, where I have had the honor to command a brigade of her veteran cavalry in a four-year war, may accept this voluntary testimonial to the merit of Peru-na as a sense of obligation for its wonderful efficacy."

Pe-ru-na a Good Tonic.

Gen. M. G. Butler, of South Carolina, writes from Washington, D. C., as follows:
"I can recommend Peru-na for dyspepsia and stomach trouble.

"I have been using your medicine for a short period and I feel very much relieved. It is indeed a wonderful medicine, and besides a good tonic."

Colds in the Head and Throat.

Chas. W. Bowman, 1st Lieut. and Adj. 4th M. S. M. Cav. Vol., writes from Janham, Md., as follows:
"Though somewhat averse to patent medicines, and still more to becoming a professional affidavit man, it seems only a plain duty in the present instance to add my experience to the columns already written concerning the curative powers of Peru-na.

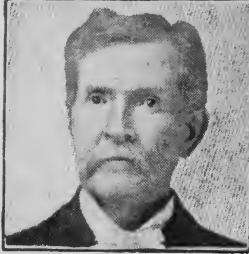

"I have been particularly benefited by its use for colds in the head and throat. I have been able to fully enjoy myself of a most severe attack in forty-eight hours by its use according to directions.

"I use it as a preventive whenever threatened with an attack. Members of my family also use it for like ailments.

"We are recommending it to our friends."

GEN'L KIRBY

Gen. A. M. Legg

Recommends Pe-ru-na to the Afflicted.

Brig. Gen. D. T. Kirby, Washington, D. C., writes concerning Peru-na, as follows:
"Friends of mine having used your Peru-na catarrh cure with good results, I am impressed with its curative qualities, and can recommend it to those who are afflicted."

Pe-ru-na in Tablet Form.

Some people prefer to take tablets, rather than to take medicine in a fluid form. Such people can obtain Peru-na tablets, which represent the medicinal ingredients of Peru-na. Each tablet is equivalent to one average dose of Peru-na.

For Catarrh of the Stomach.

Gen. W. W. Duffield, Washington, D. C., writes:
"I have used Peru-na in my family and have found it a valuable medicine and take pleasure in recommending it to all who suffer from catarrh of the stomach or who require a tonic of prompt efficacy."

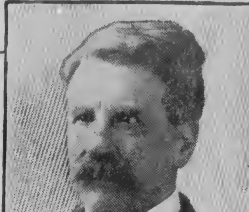

DEAFNESS CAUSED BY CATARRH—RELIEVED BY PE-RU-NA.

Gen. A. M. Legg, writes from the Savings Bank Building, Washington, D. C., as follows:
"I take pleasure in endorsing the many recommendations I have heard and read of Peru-na, because of having had knowledge of the truth of so many of them.

"We always tell our sick and ailing friends of the remedies that we have learned, from experience, were good for us when ailing in the same way, and we do it as a duty we feel that we owe them.

"Why is it then the loss our duty to advise all the people we can when we know of a good and comparatively inexpensive remedy that makes many cures, and benefits in almost all cases?"

"My own little personal experience of being relieved of deafness, caused by a case of catarrh, warrants me in advising all the afflicted to just try Peru-na."

GEN'L YODER

Used Pe-ru-na—Satisfied As to Its Merits—Recommends it to All Sufferers.

Gen. S. S. Yoder, 205 Md. Ave., N. E., Washington, D. C., writes:
"I desire to say that I have found Peru-na to be a wonderful remedy. I only used it for a short time and am thoroughly satisfied as to its merits. I shall highly recommend it to all sufferers."

For Kidney Trouble, Coughs, Colds and Catarrh.

Gen. A. T. Hawley, 138 25th St., N. W., Washington, D. C., writes:
"I have used Peru-na and find it very beneficial for kidney trouble, and especially good for coughs, colds and catarrh trouble."

Convinced of Pe-ru-na's Merit.
Brig. Gen. J. Floyd King, Washington, D. C., writes:
"I unhesitatingly state that I am convinced Peru-na is a medicine which will effect all that is claimed for its use."

Those desirous of obtaining special testimonials with regard to the use of Peru-na should write to Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

When Other Remedies Failed Peru-na Proved Efficacious.

Hon. Geo. W. Henry, National Chaplain, U. S. Army, 4th Wisconsin Cavalry, Ex-Treas. State of Wisconsin and Ex-Q. Master General State of Texas, G. A. R., writes from 1700 F St., N. E., Washington, D. C., as follows:
"I cannot too highly recommend your preparation for the relief of catarrhal troubles in their various forms."

"Some members of my own family have used it with most gratifying results."

"When other remedies failed, Peru-na proved most efficacious and I cheerfully certify to its curative excellence."

Pe-ru-na, a Standard Treatment For Catarrhal Diseases.

Mr. John C. Nelson, Dayton, Tenn., geologist and mining engineer, while a Captain in the Federal Army during the Civil War, contracted a case of rheumatism. This malady was constant and persistent, inducing the development of other ailments, which also became chronic. After taking a course of Peru-na, Capt. Nelson writes:
"Having been painfully afflicted with chronic rheumatism and the adjoining complications for many years, and after having received many general and special treatments with only temporary relief, I read your scientific treatise on catarrhal diseases."

"At my request you prescribed a special course of the Peru-na remedies, which I closely followed, and am happy to report that my rheumatism and complicated ailments are subdued, and I feel young again at the age of 60 years."

"Reason will accept your classification of catarrhal diseases as scientific and true, and the Peru-na remedies as a standard treatment for them. I thank you heartily for your skilled and logical advice."

Enjoys Renewed Health and Strength.
James J. Osborn, 623 Wahsatch Ave., Colorado Springs, Colo., has filled all the positions in Knight Templar Masonic Order, was a Mason since 1866, Judge of County Court, Clinton, Mo., and also County Collector of Clinton. He writes:
"A singular liver which I had been troubled with for two years made life miserable and I was unable to attend to my business half the time. I lacked energy, had headache most of the time, and my food distressed me and did not seem to me a particle of good."

"Reading of the many cures performed by Peru-na, I decided to try a bottle. Before I had taken many doses I felt better."

"I took it as directed for two months when I was a well man."

Night Riders Play Their First Game in Breckenridge.

No little excitement was caused at Mitchell, on the Henderson Route (branch), Monday, when the employees of the L. H. & N. L. work train were surprised at a notice from the night riders saying that they must not allow negroes to work there, and further no if it them that they must leave by six o'clock that evening. The rail-road company sent armed men to protect their employees, but when they got there every negro had left.

The work train was d. diving the steel for the new Madisonville road.

Parsley Sauce for Croquettes.

Take 1/2 cup parsley, wash carefully in several waters to rid it of any insects or particles of dirt that may adhere. Put one-half pint of boiling water and one teaspoonful of salt, boil parsley ten minutes, drain, mix with one egg white, beat in one-half pound of butter, when melted, add one tablespoonful of flour to cream, then add one pint of milk and let it come to boiling point. Serve hot. This is also a nice sauce for mackerel.
